

The Indiana Telephone Privacy Law has served my family extremely well. It has virtually stopped unwanted sales/commercial calls to our home. Before it was enacted we were barraged with calls and even though we would say we were not interested, the sheer number of calls was a constant interruption to our daily lives. Please do not consider enacting any change that would over-ride the Indiana law. Because we have done business with a company should not make us the object of their intrusion into our home and daily lives.
